We have a lot of balls in the air, but it’s a coordinated effort!

Read on to see what is new for you!
Grand Opening:
Monday, September 14

What is it?
The Cortex is a Kendallville Public Library MakerSpace where you can develop, design and discover. It was named after the Cerebral Cortex, the part of the brain responsible for thought, problem solving and information processing.

The Cortex will include a 3D Printer, two iMacs, a Sewing Machine, an Embroidery Machine, a Cricut, a 3D Pen, a ring binder, pouch laminator, crafting tools, hardware tools and more. This equipment is available for adults and children ages 8 and up (youth ages 8-15 must be accompanied by an adult). Some of the main equipment will require certification before use, which can easily be completed with our online training videos and certification quizzes.

It was designed to be a place where you can use your imagination, expand your business, explore a new hobby, or just try new things.

When Can I Use It?
The Cortex will officially open for business on Monday, September 14 at 10:00 a.m. It will be open daily from one hour after the library opens until one hour before the library closes.

Those who want to get an early look at The Cortex, and even get some certification training out of the way, are invited to our Cortex Camp on Friday, September 11 from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. Staff will be available to answer questions, train you on the equipment and offer a hands-on experience before the MakerSpace even opens to the public.

Registration is requested by calling 260-343-2010 or stopping by the library. You can also register through the online event calendar at www.
kendallvillelibrary.org.

Volunteer @ The Cortex
The Cortex is also a place where volunteers can learn valuable technology and customer service skills.

The library is seeking volunteers - high school age through adult - to help maintain the room and assist the public with projects. It’s a great opportunity for tech savvy people to get some experience working with different pieces of equipment, and a fun way to accumulate volunteer hours, especially for high schoolers who would like that addition to their college and scholarship applications.

Anyone interested in volunteering in The Cortex is encouraged to contact Jenna Anderson at 260-343-2029 or info@kendallvillelibrary.org.

Have fines? Donate Food!
The Food for Fines program will run from Tuesday, September 8 through Saturday, September 19. For each item donated, the library will forgive $1 in fines, up to a $25 fine value.

Patrons may bring non-perishable food items, paper products, hygiene products or cleaning products to the library. The library will donate those items to local food pantries, and the patron’s fines will be reduced accordingly. All items must be new, in their original packaging, not damaged and not expired.

This program applies only at the Kendallville and Limberlost Public Libraries and will only reduce fines owed to the Kendallville and Limberlost Public Libraries that have not already been turned over to a collection agency. Donations for the Food for Fines program cannot be applied toward charges for lost or damaged items. Once a donation is made, the applicable fines will be waived on the next business day.

Search for Upcoming New Releases in the Library’s Online Catalog
From any Evergreen Indiana catalog device in the library, or the library’s website at www.kendallvillelibrary.org, you can now search for new release books and movies that will soon be added to our collection.

To find these items, access the library’s online catalog and select Advanced Search. Then, click on the center tab, Numeric Search. From the dropdown menu, select Call Number (Shelf Browser). Type New in the search box, and be sure you are searching the entire Kendallville Public Library collection. New movies and books currently on order (but not yet available in the library) will pop up, and the information available will include the release date. From this list, you can easily click on an item to place a hold, and then go right back to the list to continue browsing!

We would like to introduce you to the M.A.P.S. Workshops, a brand new series of family-focused events that are taking the place of Preschool Class.

Each month, we will host a series of workshops that courage family interaction. All ages are welcome to attend and participate.

Week 1: Movement/Music
Week 2: Arts
Week 3: Play
Week 4: STEM

During months that have five weeks, families will choose their own adventure! This is the week we will hold a mini-party, and families can select some of their favorite activities.

M.A.P.S. Workshops will be held in the time slot formerly occupied by Preschool Class. Starting in September, you will find M.A.P.S. Workshops on Tuesdays at 10:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the Kendallville Public Library, and Thursdays at 10:00 a.m. at the Limberlost Branch.
Grandparent’s Day Books

Grandparent’s Day is September 13, 2015. What better way to celebrate than to check out some great children’s books about Grandmas or Grandpas?

One of our most popular books is What Grandmas Do Best/What Grandpas Do Best by Laura Numeroff. Half of the book is about all the things that grandmas do best, like playing, helping, and singing. The other half of the book is about how grandpas are good at showing magic tricks, dancing, and taking you on a picnic. Best of all, the illustrations of funny animals perfectly showcase the thing that grandparents truly are best at, giving lots of love.

Some other popular books about Grandparents include:
- Grandma in Blue with Red Hat by Scott Menchin
- Time Together: Me and Grandma by Maria Catherine
- Just Fishing with Grandma by Mercer Mayer
- Dance at Grandpa’s by Laura Ingalls Wilder
- My Grandma Lived in Gooligulch by Graeme Base

Who Was? What Was? Where Is?

A popular nonfiction series is the Who Was / What Was / Where Is? series by a slew of different authors. Each book gives information about people or places in a fun and amusingly illustrated way. For example, if you read the back of Who Was Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, a quiz is included.

Who Was: A six year old who dazzled the empress of Austria with his piano brilliance
- A composer who wrote more than 600 concertos, sonatas, symphonies, and operas in his thirty-five year lifetime
- A serious musician who loved to tell silly jokes
- All of the above

You could find out by reading Who Was Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

Some people covered in the series include Who Was: Milton Hershey • Bruce Lee • Paul Revere • Magellan • Disney • Robert Ripley

Some events covered in the What Was series:
The Gold Rush • The Boston Tea Party • Pearl Harbor • The Statue of Liberty

Look for some new titles in the Where Is Series coming soon.

Heap House
By Edward Carey

Clod is an Iremonger. Lucy is an orphan. They both live in Heap House, a great Victorian mansion, set amongst the heaps. The heaps are miles and miles of trash and other discarded items that have strangely developed their own weather system and climate. The Iremongers are the owners of this odd mansion, and Lucy is one of the servants. This story, narrated in alternating chapters by Clod and Lucy, starts out slowly but builds steam as it moves along. Read this book to learn the truth about the mysterious Iremonger family, their unorthodox “Birth Objects”, and the dark secrets that lie within Heap House’s walls.

Older enthusiasts of Lemony Snicket and Roald Dahl will be fans of this novel.

Grayson Volume 1: Agents of Spyril
By Tim Seeley, Tom King, Jeremy Cox, Carlos M. Mangual, and Stephen Mooney

Dick Grayson’s identity as Nightwing was revealed to the world in issue #7 of Forever Evil, and most of earth believes he is dead. This leads Batman to suggest that Dick infiltrate Spyril, a secret organization Batman wants to keep an eye on. Dick agrees to Batman’s proposal and becomes an Agent of Spyril. Thankfully, Dick the double agent is just as fun as Dick the superhero. Grayson, Agent of Spyril, may even be more amusing than his superhero counterpart. Spyril’s public agenda is to reveal the identity of every superhero on earth, but is that their only mission, or is Spyril up to something more suspicious?

Fans of any bat family graphic novels will also enjoy this title.
