Air Raid Wardens Are Called
Into Emergency Service For First Time

Air raid wardens of the civilian de fense organization were called into emer gency service yesterday for the first time since they were organized in the area over a year ago.

The wardens between Bay V., Carver,
V. W. Herbe, director, and Fred Lynch, commander, it was decided to call the wardens to duty to clean the debris from the streets, donning sympathy, coats and armed with saws, axes and hatchets, the group worked vigorously all afternoon, removing the debris which littered most blocks. The work was done to clear the streets in the event of air raids.

At C-ng, under the direction of Commander Lynch, did a splendid job and are receiving the commendation of city officials as well as the public in general.

KENDALLVILLE OVER TOP IN R. C. WAR FUND

Citizens' Liberal Response Puts
Campaign Well Over $8,000

Kendallville has reached the Red Cross war bond goal of $8,000 set by the national organization. Mrs. Mary Dean, chairman, announced at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon.

She was highly pleased with the announcement from workers and captains of the various teams that the goal had been exceeded.

The city has been the first to have gone over the top in Indiana.

Eagerly, with a goal of $2,500, has this gone over the top.

Contributions will continue to be received in this city as there is great need for funds to aid the wounded on the battlefields and elsewhere. The Red Cross is still the "Greatest Need in the World." All over the world, wherever our fighting men go, the help of the citizens of Kendallville as well as industries, clubs and institutions of the city is greatly appreciated, and we enthusiastically believe that Kendallville never fails in an emergency.

ORDNANCE WITH GEN. STILWELL'S ARMY, LEGEND

Phantom combat troops of the ordnance department, army service forces, assigned to Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Burma army have already become a legend among the Chinese.

Col. Charles McKnight, commanding officer, Cu. ordnance depot, New Haven, said today that recent reports from the China-Burma-India theater indicated that one ordnance officer two or three enlisted ordnance men and a few American-trained Chinese mechanics have the responsibility of keeping in repair all the weapons of an entire Chinese division. In Burma a division may number anywhere from 5,000 to 8,000 men.

Army ordnance shops are constantly with Chinese combat columns. They brook with the Chinese, as Chinese food, work behind the front lines with the Chinese, frequently repair rifles and artillery pieces under fire, and sometimes fight side by side with their Chinese comrades.
