Library Board Approves Policy Changes

Two new policies take effect this month; one for the protection of patrons, and another for the convenience of patrons.

The board approved a few changes to the library’s meeting room policy. Now, patrons can reserve a meeting room up to two years in advance. That’s great news for people who like to plan ahead for parties and big events.

Speaking of parties, the board did make some changes to the policy regarding deposits. Those scheduling a room for a party are now required to pay the deposit within 7 days of making the reservation. Deposits are cash only, and can be refunded as early as the next business day after the event, if the room guidelines (leaving a clean room, removing trash, resetting tables and chairs, etc) are followed.

Those who have made a deposit, but have to cancel the planned event, must do so within 7 days of the event date in order to receive a refund of their deposit.

Those who are eligible to receive a refund of their deposit must pick it up within 30 days after the event. After 30 days, it will be considered a donation to the Kendallville Public Library.

These changes were made to streamline the process for patrons and staff, make it more convenient for patrons to plan long-term for events, as well as ensure that the library’s high-demand spaces are being used by those who need them and not sitting empty if a group cancels at the last minute.

The second policy, one newly created, was developed for the protection of staff and patrons. The library takes pride in the quality of our materials. In fact, each item returned to the Kendallville Public Library is cleaned and checked to be sure it is in good condition.

To curb the potential for a pest infestation, the board approved a pest policy covering materials that may be found contaminated with bed bugs, lice, fleas and other pests.

In the event that an item is returned to the library with evidence of pest contamination, the patron will be notified in person, if possible, and also by mail, of the contamination. In the event of bedbugs, in order to return to the library and check out materials, the library will require the patron provide a paid and dated receipt for proper pest extermination and/or inspection with clean results at the patron’s address. There may be a charge for materials checked out to the patron that had to be discarded due to an infestation.

Complete policies are available online at www.kendallvillelibrary.org.

Support the Library While You Shop!

If you shop at Kroger or Owen’s, you can use your Kroger Plus Card to donate to the Kendallville Public Library!

To get started, go online to www.kroger.com/communityrewards, and sign in or create an account. You can link your Plus Card to the Kendallville Public Library (can be searched by name or found by entering code QC028).

Then, each time you use your Kroger Plus Card at one of the Kroger family of stores, the Kendallville Public Library will receive a quarterly donation, based on your spending.

It’s easy to participate, and the library uses the funds to support many of the services we provide, and some of the fun stuff like prizes for Summer Reading!

Need assistance getting your Kroger Plus Card set up? Stop by the library - we would be happy to help.

Kendallville Area Chamber of Commerce

Are you an employee of a business that is a member of the Chamber of Commerce? Bring your membership card to the library and receive 10% off print, copy and laminating services. Plus, if your business needs to rent a room from the library, you can get up to one free rental per month!

Ask us for details at 343-2010 or info@kendallvillelibrary.org.

Time’s Running Out for the Fall Reading Challenge

The Kendallville Public Library’s Adult Fall Reading Challenge runs through November 15! You have a little time left to pick up a BINGO card and complete activities to score a BINGO in any direction (horizontally, vertically, or diagonally). Many of the challenges surround reading, but some are activities like checking out a board game or DVD, stopping by the Genealogy Center for a little research, or attending an event.

When you get that BINGO, you’ll have your choice of a football stress ball, or a silicone card holder for your cell phone. Want one of each? You can earn up to two BINGOs per person! For each BINGO you earn, you’ll also receive an entry into the grand prize drawing for a $50 Amazon Gift Card!

Create Some Paper - Request an Emailed Receipt!

If you’re not someone who uses your library check out receipt as a bookmark, consider going paperless! Our staff can help you choose an emailed receipt, or, you can set that preference yourself in your online account. Once you’ve logged in from www.kendallvillelibrary.org, simply choose Notification Preferences, and click the check box next to Email Checkout Receipts by Default. Remember to click Save when you have done that! See below for an example.

Who Loves the Fall?
By Bob Raczka

Who loves the fall? Everyone from rakers, leapers, and corn-reapers to adders, spellers and show-and-tellers loves the fall! Fall is that exciting time of year when there are crops to be harvested, leaves to jump in, and games to play. Who Loves the Fall is a sweet rhyming book about the joys of the season. Fall Facts are included in the back of the book to expand on some of the terms. Share it as an opener to discussions about fall events.

Sun Up, Sun Down
By Gail Gibbons

In this simple informational picture book, we follow the experiences of a little girl throughout the day as she notices the Sun. She shares how she sees the Sun make shadows and patterns on her bedroom floor in the morning. She tells about her dad taught her that the Sun helps plants grow. Told from the perspective of a little girl, this book engages even the youngest of listeners to learn more about our closest star, and its impact on Earth.

Frankly in Love
By David Yoon
Frank Li is stuck between two lives. Born to Korean parents in Southern California, Frank often struggles with the traditions and expectations held by his parents while being raised in an American suburb. One such expectation, that Frank should date someone who is also Korean, begins to cause Frank trouble when he starts to date his dream girl. Brit is everything that Frank wants in a girlfriend, except she isn’t Korean.

Frank and his friend Joy, a daughter of a Korean American family, hatch a plan to trick their parents. They agree to pretend to date in front of their families, while still maintaining their real relationships. As their plan progresses, Frank begins to question if he truly knows himself or if he even knows what being in love means.

A story with diverse characters and a heartfelt romance makes this a must-read.

Pumpkinheads
By Rainbow Rowell
Rainbow Rowell, author of Fangirl and Eleanor & Park, introduces us to Deja and Josiah in her first graphic novel. Deja and Josiah are seasonal best friends, working closely together every autumn at a pumpkin patch. They spend September through October together every year and always say goodbye on Halloween.

Except this year, Deja and Josiah are seniors. It is their last year working together at the pumpkin patch. Deja is determined to make their last shift the best one yet and convinces Josiah to embark on a quest.

Full of humor and likeable characters, Rowell’s graphic novel debut is the perfect seasonal read.
