Board Report
November 2017

Kleiman: It's that time of year again. Packets with information about the contest will be going out to teachers and students soon. I'm still searching for an author for the banquet night. I'm hopeful that more students will participate this year.

New Furniture: New furniture is going to be purchased for the teen area. I have found a great replacement for the tall tables and chairs that seem to need weekly repairs. The majority of the cost will be paid for with money from the teen gift account.

Video Game Collection: The summer reading program project that was voted for by patrons was received very well by the teens. They especially enjoy checking out games that we don't have in our in-house PS4 collection and playing them at the library. It helps keep our PS4 fresh and new without having to purchase every game for our in-house collection.
