

The last couple months have been a whirl wind. Finding and keeping good help can be tough. But regardless— we have been trucking along providing educational engaging lessons both in and out of the library.

We've enjoyed time spent with the Greenwood library staff as they've looked at our topic driven collection and asked tons and tons of questions. It's so rewarding to see others embrace this classification system, doing their best to remove barriers to access for their patrons.

Beth was asked to serve as the Indiana representative to the American Library Association. She will have additional meetings to attend when at annual and midwinter conferences

Beth and Deaneen Pashea presented an idea to the ENSC Shark Tank and then to the Board of Trustees and were selected as the winners with their idea of "Design Your Climb." This is a framework which will layout both personal growth and academic paths for students, teachers, and community member to follow; allowing them to see a visual path to success.

Stephenie Hochstetler was hired last week to join the children's service team. She is a recent IU grad and looking forward to working on her Master's in Library Science degree. She will be spending most of her time on conducting programs for our 3rd and 4th grade students.
